SUMMARY

The main objective of this module is the acquisition of the basic knowledge and techniques of film script writing. In this sense, the students will acquire the most common tools in the writing of film scripts and will face the problems associated with the development of film projects. Bearing in mind that each script has specific rules and challenges, we will analyze each of the draft scripts that the student will consider taking forward.

PREVIOUS KNOWLEDGE

Relationship to other subjects of the same degree

There are no specified enrollment restrictions with other subjects of the curriculum.

Other requirements

They are not needed but a high level of oral and written Spanish is recommended due to the practical nature of the subject .

OUTCOMES

1301 - Degree in Audiovisual Communication

- Knowledge of the different languages, codes and representation methods of the different technological and audiovisual media: photography, cinema, radio, television, video and electronic image, the Internet, etc. through their aesthetic and industrial proposals and their evolution over the years, which should generate a capacity to analyse audiovisual narratives and works, taking into account iconic messages such as the texts and products of the socio-political and cultural conditions of a given historic era.
- Knowledge and applications of the different stages of audiovisual production and broadcasting techniques and the processes from the conception of a project until it is put into practice. This knowledge will bring about the development of the ability and skills to plan and manage human resources, budgets and technical means, including all the processes involved in audiovisual direction and management in the different fields:
 - cinematographic & videographic production,
 - single- and multiple-camera TV productions
 - radiophonic, discographic and other sound production,
 - photographic production, as well as other creative processes in the field of still images in general, paying special attention to its development in digital environments,
 - production of multimedia narratives and contents and interactive materials
- Knowledge and applications of the different stages of audiovisual production and broadcasting techniques and processes, both in the cinema and in television, video and multimedia from the viewpoint of the mise-en-scène from the initial idea to the finished product. This will lead to the ability to create and direct the whole mise-en-scène of audiovisual cinematographic, videographic or televisual productions, directing actors and following the script, work plan or storyboard.
- Knowledge and applications of the different mechanisms and elements of scriptwriting in different formats, technologies and production supports. It also includes theoretical and practical knowledge of the analyses, sistematisation and codification of iconic contents and audiovisual information in different supports and technologies. The ability to create texts, script outlines or scripts fluidly in the fields of cinematographic, televisual, videographic, radiophonic or multimedia fiction.

- Knowledge and the ability to apply resources, elements, methods and procedures of the construction processes and analysis of the linear and non-linear audiovisual narratives, including the design, establishment and development of strategies, as well as the applications of persuasive communication policies in audiovisual markets.
- The ability to apply creation techniques and processes and technical or human resources necessary for the integral production design of an audiovisual work from scenographic elements and the brand image to the graphic marketing product.
- Creativity: the ability to take expressive and thematic risks involving availability and audiovisual timeframes, by applying personal solutions and viewpoints in the development of the projects.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Knowledge and application of different mechanisms and elements of the script construction.

Ability to conceive a filmic idea creatively.

Ability to plan, develop and transform the idea into a screenplay.
