SUMMARY

Before presenting the subject we want to give an account of the conditions in which this guide is elaborated. This guide is written and presented in attention to:
http://www.uv.es/didorg/guiesdocents/escrit\_vicerectores.pdf.

We consider that this format refers to a certain way of thinking and conform university teaching, we also consider that teaching is a space of creation, experience and transformation. However this format makes us think of teaching as something that can be foreseen, as something that is imparted and not something that is put in relation.

This subject is obligatory of the second year of the degree of Pedagogy and approaches the study of the accompaniment in The processes of learning, the study and analysis of the conditions in which it takes place.

The subject, -The subjects, the processes and the contexts of learning-, tries to think didactics from the complex relationship that is created between whom they maintain.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

“Cuando el aprendizaje se reduce a la producción de resultados de aprendizaje; cuando la producción de resultados de aprendizaje constituye, simplemente, una manera diferente de nombrar la conversión de las potencialidades en competencias(...)” Maarten Simons y Jan Masschelein (2014) en Defensa de la escuela. Una cuestión pública. Buenos Aires. Miño y Dávila (p. 22).

TEACHING METHODOLOGY

To specify how to work on the subject, refer to the programs of the teachers who hold the subject with each group. Broadly speaking, we can say that the methodology will combine document work, class discussion of the same, the preparation of work by the students, explanations and clarifications by the teachers, among others.

EVALUATION

Class attendance is essential to be able to pass the subject, students and students who cannot attend the subject regularly must establish an alternative work plan with the teacher responsible for the group to which they belong. To know precisely what will be the way to evaluate the subject, you must consult the programs of the teachers responsible for each group. In these programs, the evaluation procedures will be specified, among others: individual and group work, attendance at tutorials, reading of materials. The evaluation criteria will also be found in the teachers' programs.

REFERENCES*Basic

- En aquesta guia recollim a les referències complementàries aquelles que considerem ajuden a situar l'assignatura. Tot i això per concretar, tant les referències bàsiques com les complementàries que corresponen a l'assignatura caldrà prendre com a referència els programes elaborats per les professores responsables de cada grup.

En esta guía recogemos en las referencias complementarias aquellas que consideramos ayudan a situar la asignatura. Pese a ello por concretar, tanto las referencias básicas como las complementarias que corresponden a la asignatura hay que tomar como referencia los programas elaborados por las profesoras responsables de cada grupo.
