SUMMARY

“Guarantees of the credit” is an optional subject of the fourth course of the Law Degree inside the itinerary of Private Law as Tort Law, Consumer Protection and Notarial Law. It maintains a special link with other main subjects of the Law Degree as Civil Law II and Civil Law III. In fact, “guarantees of the credit” takes as a reference the existence of a legal relation as a way of exchanging goods and it is referred to the mechanisms that the legal system provides to creditors in order to protect their rights. First it will be analyzed the civil bond, the contract penalty and the new so called “independent or autonomous guarantees” like the security or the lien. After that it will be studied the so called “in rem guarantees” that are related to immovable like the mortgage and antichresis, and also related to movables like chattel mortgage and the pledge that could be registered in the Movable assets Registry. Also it will be offered a study of the personal actions to protect the credit like the action of compliance, the resolution of the contract and the compensation of damages, and also subsidiary actions like the action to revoke and the action to subrogate. Finally it will be taken into consideration the situation of bankruptcy regulated in the Insolvency Act of 2003
