TEACHING METHODOLOGY

Theory-based classes: This subject will be structured around lecture classes that aim to provide the necessary historical and cultural context for each movement or period under consideration, and commentary and group discussion of representative texts included in the reading list.

Practical classes: Group discussion of all representative texts of each unit.

Active in-class participation is an important component of the class. Active participation consists in coming to class prepared to actively participate in discussions and other in-class activities. The students will have a dossier (required for all students) with primary source texts, which they will be expected to read on their own before class. In class, the teacher will ask a list of questions on the reading assigned for the day. Students will debate in groups and later there will be a class debate. At the end of the class, the groups will hand in (signed by all students in the group) the results of their debate, which will also serve as control of attendance, and may also count for a percentage of the 20% of the final mark.

EVALUATION

Assessment in the FIRST and SECOND CALLS:

- a) Individual written examination: 80%
- b) Practical written tests, essays: 20%

No marks achieved in the exam and practical test will be carried over to the retake.

Assessment Criteria

The written examination will evaluate both theoretical and practical aspects of the course: in order

1. 1. to assess the student's assimilation of knowledge and concepts imparted during lectures and
2. 2. to assess her/his understanding of and critical response to texts studied in class as reflected in the ability to manage the appropriate methods and techniques of analysis

OPTIONAL ESSAY (Substitutes second part of Written Examination, 20%)

Select ONE of these possibilities in response to TEXTS read in class. (see deadlines)

Option 1

Select ONE text read in class, and choose AN IMAGE (picture, etching, photograph) which illustrates its content. Write around 750 words explaining the correspondence between the text and the image. (deadline November 18th)

Option 2

Select ONE AUTHOR studied in class and write an interview with her/him. You should ask around 7 questions showing your in-depth analysis about a certain aspect of her/his work and its period of composition. Write around 750 words. (deadline November 18th)

Option 3

Think about any ORAL PRESENTATION related to this subject that you may find interesting for the rest of the class and communicate your project in advance (before October 18th) to your lecturer. (about 15 min.-one student / 25 min.-two students).

The ability to communicate at the B2 (CEFR level) is required to pass the course as a whole. Students' whose written and/or oral communication display errors that are not consistent with the above level will fail the module regardless of their performance related to the course contents.

Plagiarism will not be tolerated; it is a serious academic offence. Any student who is found to have plagiarised his/her work will face serious consequences which could lead to failing the whole subject.
