TEACHING METHODOLOGY

Theoretical-practical approach

There will be no strict methodological separation between theory and practice.

Every effort will be made to have the students put into practice the explanations of the language that are provided to them through the most direct approach possible to the reality of the French language.

Material and bibliography

We will work with the materials that will be included in the virtual classroom and that belong to the bibliography.

Observations

The classes as well as the different works to be carried out will be carried out in the French language.

Students will have to be aware of the information, resources, and activities that the teacher distributes in class / Virtual Classroom.

EVALUATION

2 possible itineraries Students may be evaluated by continuous evaluation or final evaluation.

To be evaluated through continuous evaluation, it is mandatory to attend at least 80% of the classes and have attended all the exercises.

Students who do not meet these requirements will be evaluated by final exam.

CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT

During the course preparatory tests will be carried out for the evaluable exercises.

The final grade will be the average of those obtained in the following tests:

- three formative assessment exercises carried out in class 60% of the final grade
- an oral exercise 20% of the final grade
- a written exam 20% of the final grade

To pass the whole subject, it is necessary to achieve at least a 5/10 among the 3 formative assessment exercises, a 5/10 in oral, and a 5/10 in writing.

Work will not be accepted outside the deadlines established by the teachers.

FINAL EVALUATION

Students will communicate their preference for this type of assessment at the beginning of the course in order to schedule the part of exercises to be delivered on the day of the exam in agreement with the teaching staff.

- final written exam on an official date to assess theoretical and practical knowledge, as well as the skills acquired or developed throughout the course 50%

- practical exercises: specific activities will be scheduled to present on the exam date in order to assess both oral and written comprehension and oral and written expression 50%

To pass the whole subject it is necessary to achieve at least a 5/10 in each of the previous sections.
