SUMMARY

English Language I is a first-year (first semester) foundation subject that is part of the module Foundation course in language and literature and the sub-module English Language in the English Studies degree programme of the Universitat de València (approved in 2010). It is also part of the Translation and Interlinguistic Mediation degree programme and of the English Studies minor in the Modern Languages and Literatures, Catalan Language and Literature, Hispanic Studies, and Classics degree programmes. In the English Studies degree, this course is related to the series English Language I-VIII in the module English Language and Linguistics and also to other subjects in the English Linguistics sub-module: History of the English Language, English Morphology and Lexis, English Syntax and Second Language Acquisition.

The aim of the course is to develop communicative skills in English (reading comprehension and written expression) up to Level B2 in multiple contexts.

At the same time, the course aims to promote autonomous learning, self-assessment, and remedial work with the lecturer.

Summary of Linguistic content in English Language I

Students will be introduced to the concept of register and its main components, namely field, mode and tenor. Practical examples and activities will be provided, with a special emphasis on academic English and on the writing process, from paragraph structure to essay writing.

TEACHING METHODOLOGY

For students to reach the required level of English and develop other competences which are also specified in this syllabus the following methodological approaches will be implemented:

- the teacher will formally present key concepts and also counsel, facilitate, organize, monitor, liaise, correct and assess students.
- the teacher will promote student-centred activities through some or all of the following: individual work, pair work, group work, problem solving, project work, and task-based learning.

Autonomous and/or group learning inside and outside the classroom, including computer-based activities will be encouraged.

Your teacher will give you information on requisites relating to attendance at the beginning of the course.

EVALUATION

ASSESSMENT FIRST & SECOND CALLS:

A) Individual final examination that includes a reading test, a use of English test, and a written expression test: 80%

B) Activities carried out during the course: 20%

Total: 100%

To pass the subject students need to get at least 50% as an average of both part A and B. Students must also get 50% in each section of part A.

The mark for these activities (part B) is only counted if the student passes part A.

Assessment Criteria:

Students will need to show that they have grasped the concepts introduced by their lecturer(s). They will also have to demonstrate that they have learnt the lexical, grammatical and functional items to be used in the multiple contexts seen in class. Students will also need to show that they have attained a B2 competence level and that they have acquired a satisfactory level in the other specific competences described in the learning outcomes (section 5) and in the course contents (section 6).

If a student fails one section of the examination (part A) in the the first call, he/she would need to take all the parts again. The mark for the 20% of part B will be carried over to the second call. These activities (part B) can only be done during the course and cannot be handed in for the second call.

Plagiarism will not be tolerated; it is a serious academic offence. Any student who is found to have plagiarised will fail the whole subject. For more information on what plagiarism is and how to avoid it, go to www.uv.es/englishphil/plagiarism.
