SUMMARY

- Introduction to taxation is the English version of the course Introducción a la Fiscalidad, a 6 ECTS credit compulsory course, included with the subject “Fiscalidad de la empresa” in the Subject “Fiscalidad” (Taxation). This courses are part of the Module “Entorno Económico y Marco Jurídico” (Economic environment and Legal Framework) in the Degree in ADE.
- The formative importance of the course resides in its contribution to the central objective of the grade in ADE of forming professionals able to perform management, advising and assessment activities in firms, both globally and in specific functional areas like finance, investment, management or accounting, so its contribution qualifies to the graduated in ADE to work both in firms or institutions management and in the field of counseling and consulting.
- As to the specific objectives of the Degree in Business Administration this Course provides instrumental knowledge to the training and learning process. The course is organised to help students to acquire knowledge and skills in different professional fields and mentally prepared to adapt both to the new scenarios that may require his future career and to changes in the current economic and regulatory environment.
- The subject is of great interest for the future career of the students as it provides some basic skills basic to achieve different profiles, for example, those involved with Taxation, Auditing, Accounting, Constitution and Dissolution of Companies, Asset Management, etc.,.
- Its localization inside the module helps to place the study area in the legal and fiscal environment in which the company operates and interacts, and it allows to enlarge the knowledge that will be used in further subjects. In this sense, the different subjects of the module are linked with part of the contents that are taught in some of the subjects of other modules.
- Besides their role in supporting later formative developments, the module is useful professionally because part of the contents and skills that are acquired are of direct application during the work as a professional.
- The contents of the course will cover a varied range of aspects related with Public Sector Funding, business taxation from the starting of the firm, to the normal operation, inheritance and transmission, and dissolution of Business, and finally, the Spanish taxes. On this regard Spanish Personal Income Tax and Value Added tax will be the main characters of the course, taking into account their impact on the tax obligations of those engaged in economic activities.

TEACHING METHODOLOGY

During the course we will work on the contents of the syllabus. We will consider theoretical questions of the subject along with exercises and practical cases that must be handed in to the responsible of the class on the scheduled dates and fulfilling formal requirements. To follow the theoretical and practical sessions it can be used the available resources appropriate to achieve the correct attainment of the proposed objectives (blackboard, transparencies, virtual classroom, etc.).

In a general way, the classes combined the methodology of master classes with practical sessions. So, on one hand, the professor will highlight the fundamental aspects of each topic and it will guide the study through the relevant bibliography, on the other hand, the practices will consist on outlining questions and exercises applied to the economic and juridical field that students must solve. If required, the answers of the exercises will be discussed in class. Also students will be asked to read, to analyze and to synthesize different readings and must be able to show -either by means of written work, or either by means of oral presentation- his/her understanding of the readings.

The educational materials required will be available either in the Library or –if possible- in the virtual classroom, <http://aulavirtual.uv.es>.
