SUMMARY*English version is not available

Partimos de la definición de marketing internacional, según la cual se entiende por marketing internacional “la función estratégica que consiste en entender cual es la motivación o beneficio que le aporta un producto (bien o servicio) a un comprador que pertenece a un mercado distinto al nuestro y satisfacer sus necesidades teniendo en cuenta las particularidades del entorno”. Sobre esta base la asignatura introduce al alumno en varios aspectos del marketing internacional con el principal objetivo de desarrollar herramientas para la identificación, análisis y soluciones de problemas propios de las operaciones de marketing internacional. Al finalizar el curso, se pretende que el alumno sepa identificar los problemas de comercialización de una empresa, analizar dichos problemas y proporcionar soluciones válidas a la dirección de la empresa
