TEACHING METHODOLOGY

The theoretical teaching methodology will be based on the delivery of lectures along with the possible performance, presentation and defense of individual and collective reports. Classes are taught using audio-visual technical equipment. The student will have this material in the virtual classroom

During the semester, 5 seminars will be conducted about the preparation of dishes that combine ingredients of Mediterranean cuisine with the aim that students can apply the theoretical knowledge. During these seminars the teacher will give the keys to perform this activity and will supervise the development of it, the teacher will address the doubts in the preparation of the recipe and the teacher will guide on how to make the reports that will be delivered at the end of the course.

Visits to centers of interest for the subject will be scheduled. The aim of them is to show in site day to day, process and facilities of a company to apply theoretical knowledge. To make the most of the experience, a previous study of the company will be asked, whenever possible, and the professor will address the doubts. At the end of the visit, a report will be delivered to the teacher.

ADDENDUM COVID-19

This addendum will only be activated if the health situation requires so and with the prior agreement of the Governing Council

1. Contents

All the contents initially included in the teaching guide are maintained

2. Volume of work and temporal planning of teaching

The workload for the student body is maintained, changing the methodology of the activities with respect to the conventional teaching guide to adopt the hybrid teaching model.

3. Teaching methodology

- Theoretical teaching: If regular presence is not feasible, it will be carried out through synchronous sessions (videoconferences). If the presence could be only partial, the students will be divided into groups, so that one group will be in the classroom of the Faculty while the other will connect online, alternating their attendance for weeks. In any case, the schedule (date and time) approved by the CAT and published on the web will be followed.
- Tutorials and consultations: If the presence is not feasible, they will be attended by videoconference (agreeing the time) or by Email with the commitment of 48h response on working days.
- Classroom practices and Seminars: If the presence is not feasible, the individual and collective reports, as well as the seminar work, will be proposed and resolved with the tools available in the virtual classroom.
- Visits and Practices in Centers outside the UV: If face-to-face teaching is not feasible, face-to-face teaching activities will be replaced by other tasks that will be proposed and resolved with the tools available in the virtual classroom of the subjects with the mediation of the Lluís Alcanyís Foundation.

If a state of total confinement were to occur, all face-to-face teaching would be carried out online.

4. Evaluation

If the evolution of the current pandemic allows it, it will be face-to-face and in the terms indicated in the teaching guide. Only in case this is not possible, the evaluation will be carried out through the virtual classroom with tasks or online questionnaires with single or multiple choice questions, which can be complemented with short questions and/or on certain occasions through an oral exam through video conferencing.

The relative weight in the evaluation of the theory, the visits and reports delivered, the seminars and the continuous evaluation activities is maintained as indicated in the teaching guide.
