SUMMARY

The course Research Work (14 ECTS) includes 350 h of laboratory work and / or fieldwork in an endemic zone, together with bibliographical work and drafting a final thesis. The aim of the subject is to permit students to obtain the skills needed in research work. This subject enables students to critically value, know and apply sources of information related to Parasitology, parasitic diseases and sanitary aspects. Basic training concerning research activities is provided together with the ability to express hypotheses, gather and interpret information to solve problems according to scientific methods, to understand the importance and limitations of scientific thinking with regard to tropical parasitic diseases.

The Thesis will include Introduction, Background, Material and Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusions and Bibliography. The content will cover a parasitic disease or aspect of it, and will be supervised by one lecturer involved in the teaching of the Master course. It can be compiled either at University of Valencia or at other Spanish or foreign institutions.

In the Virtual Classroom of the subject the guidelines that the student has to follow for the elaboration of the corresponding Report are detailed. The tutor, in agreement with the student, will assign the research work topic to be carried out
