SUMMARYEnglish version is not available

La asignatura se integra dentro de la materia “Marco económico, jurídico y social de la Dirección de Recursos Humanos”, con un total de 15 ECTS, junto a las asignaturas siguientes: (i) Condicionantes jurídicos de recursos humanos (3 ECTS); (ii) Normas laborales y valoración de necesidades de RRHH (3 ECTS). (iii) Sistema de relaciones laborales (3 ECTS). Y (iv) Actividad económica y política económica (3 ECTS)

Todas ellas pretenden acercar a los/as estudiantes al marco de los condicionantes jurídicos y sociales de la profesión, al conocimiento de las normas que regulan cuestiones como la contratación y las políticas salariales, a las políticas de igualdad o la gestión de la diversidad y a la comprensión del marco de política económica en el que el futuro director/a o gestor/a de RRHH desarrollará sus funciones.

La asignatura tendrá dos apartados, siendo dirigido cada uno por profesorado especializado en diferentes áreas científicas. Se pretende de este modo que el alumnado tenga una perspectiva interdisciplinar de la cuestión de la diversidad. Las dos perspectivas utilizadas serán la sociológica y la jurídico-laboral. Con la primera se identificará la situación y sus repercusiones en la gestión de los recursos humanos. Con la segunda se aplicarán conceptos jurídicos, se identificarán conductas ilícitas y se especificarán sanciones, consecuencias, efectos y mecanismos de tutela.

Other requirements

OUTCOMES

2126 - M.D. in Human Resources Management

- Students should apply acquired knowledge to solve problems in unfamiliar contexts within their field of study, including multidisciplinary scenarios.
- Students should be able to integrate knowledge and address the complexity of making informed judgments based on incomplete or limited information, including reflections on the social and ethical responsibilities associated with the application of their knowledge and judgments.
- Students should communicate conclusions and underlying knowledge clearly and unambiguously to both specialized and non-specialized audiences.
- Students should demonstrate self-directed learning skills for continued academic growth.
- Students should be able to self-organise, which means systematically planning and setting realistic time schedules for the different tasks in their personal agenda, prioritising their activities, attending to criteria of urgency and importance, using explicit tools and procedures to control the level of performance and optimising time.
- Students should be able to initiate, lead, promote and facilitate interactions, as well as to manage groups of people.

- Students should have the ability to communicate, influence and be effective in interpersonal relationships.
- Students should have assertive communication and negotiation skills. This means being able to carry out negotiations related to the direction and management of human resources, and being able to carry out a mediation activity that facilitates an adequate management of human resources.
- Students should be prepared for lifelong learning and self-development. The individual develops the ability to incorporate new knowledge, skills and professional competences.
- Students should be able to lead people and teams to achieve the objectives of human resources management. In this sense, they should develop a certain level of relational sensitivity and empathy.
- Students should understand and manage cultural and ethnic diversity in organisations.
- Students should develop a certain tolerance for uncertainty.
- Students should be aware of the legal constraints on human resources policies and strategies.
- Students should be able to assess and anticipate the legal consequences of organisational decisions taken by the company in relation to staff.
- Students should be able to quantify the costs of organisational decisions taken by the company in relation to staff.
- Students should know the requirements and implications of occupational risk prevention policies.
- Students should be aware of the social and regulatory aspects of diversity management.
- Students should be able to implement personnel policies linked to diversity management.

EVALUATION

The assessment will follow the following criteria:

LEGAL PART

1st call:

- Participation, initiative and personal contribution in the sessions: 5%
- Assessment of the individual or collective activities: 45%. In concrete, it will be proposed four activities, not being necessary a minimum mark to average or add:
 - Activity 1: 12,5%
 - Activity 2: 12,5%
 - Activity 3: 12,5%
 - Activity 4: 7,5%

2nd call:

For the second call it will be carried over the marks obtained in those activities with a minimum mark of 5 and it will be proposed similar activities of re-assessment. Nevertheless, 5% of continuous assessment is not recoverable, maintaining, in his case, the mark obtained.

Both in first and in second call, the minimum mark to pass will be of 5.

The detection of plagiarism in any of the works will lead to a mark of 0.

The distinction of Excellent will be awarded to the student who had achieved the highest mark adding the two parts of the mark, with a minimum of 9 points. In case of tie, it will be proposed an additional activity. If the tie persists, it will be resolved by draw.
