OUTCOMES

2171 - M.U. en Ciencias Actuariales y Financieras

- Students can apply the knowledge acquired and their ability to solve problems in new or unfamiliar environments within broader (or multidisciplinary) contexts related to their field of study.
- Students are able to integrate knowledge and handle the complexity of formulating judgments based on information that, while being incomplete or limited, includes reflection on social and ethical responsibilities linked to the application of their knowledge and judgments.
- Students can communicate their conclusions, and the knowledge and rationale underpinning these, to specialist and non-specialist audiences, clearly and unambiguously.
- Students have the knowledge and understanding that provide a basis or an opportunity for originality in developing and/or applying ideas, often within a research context.

Abilities and / or proficiencies to:

- Develop and apply the contents studied during the Master in an individual theoretical or applied research project.
- Apply modern ICT technologies.
- Prepare a document in which a critical assessment of the information sources is carried out, the stages and contents of the work are structured and adequately described, and the results are presented in a rigorous and professional manner.

DESCRIPTION OF CONTENTS

1. The Master's Final Project

The objective of the master's final project may be a theoretical investigation or be based on the external practices carried out.

In the case of being a theoretical investigation, special reference should be made to the existing literature, the methodologies to be used in the investigation with their advantages and disadvantages, the contributions made and the conclusions of the work.

In the case of dealing in whole or in part with external practices, a solution must be provided to improve the activity carried out at the time.

In any case, the master's final project must reflect an original contribution and not be a mere description of the activities carried out or a compilation of the existing bibliography.
